

INTRODUCTION: 60627 is a light gray, coherent, impact melt with a very fine grain size (Fig. 1). A few patches of dark splash glass are present on the surface of the smooth, sub-rounded sample. It is a rake sample collected about 70 m west southwest of the Lunar Module. Zap pits are abundant.

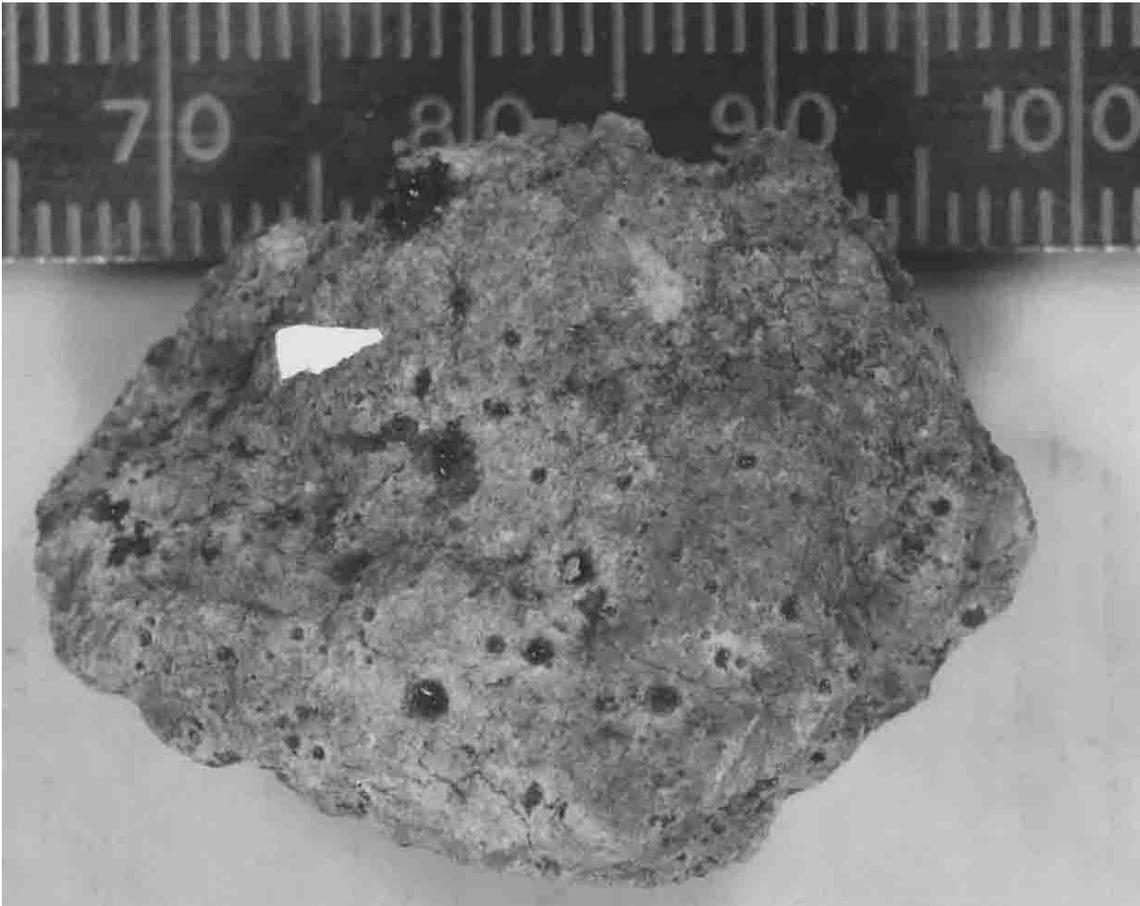

FIGURE 1. Smallest scale division in mm.